

Christopher Letang

Managing Director, Professional Services | SRS Acquiom

Denver

303.957.2855

Chris is the Managing Director of our Professional Services team. He and his team work to resolve claims against escrow funds, purchase price adjustments, and disputes about contingent consideration owed in M&A transactions. Shareholders have been saved over $450 million in contested escrow claims—a return of over 20x on the fees charged—as the result of Chris and his team’s work. His team also manages the process by which post-closing merger proceeds are distributed to shareholders as well as the wind-down and liquidation of any entities remaining after an M&A deal is completed. In 2015, Chris was recognized in the Service Provider category of The M&A Advisor’s 6th Annual 40 Under 40 Emerging Leaders Awards.

Before joining SRS Acquiom, Chris practiced corporate law in the Colorado office of Cooley LLP, where he focused on venture capital transactions and mergers and acquisitions. He began his legal career at Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP in New York City. At Cravath, he primarily represented underwriters in initial public offerings and high-yield debt offerings and lenders in commercial banking transactions.

Chris holds a J.D. from Harvard Law School and a B.A. from Rice University.